

Governor Patrick has announced new plans to crack down on domestic violence

October 1, 2007

Governor Patrick has announced new plans to crack down on domestic violence in Massachusetts. Patrick wants to explore successful programs in other states where the issue is approached as both a civic and public problem. NECN's Alison King has more.

Bay State to battle domestic violence

(click to view video clip)

You'll need a version of Windows Media Player 7 or higher to view the video. If you need to download it, go to <http://www.microsoft.com/windows/mediaplayer/en/default.asp>. The video player is supported by Microsoft IE 5.0 and above.